

HEALING BIRTH & AWAKENING THE DIVINE FEMININE

A TWO DAY RESIDENTIAL WORKSHOP AND RETREAT
With Benig Mauger, Jungian Psychotherapist & Author

While wanting to progress on our spiritual path, we are often held back by our sense of wounding. In this workshop I will outline the impact prenatal life, birth and early parenting has on our psyches and offer a framework for understanding how these imprints are played out in our lives and relationships. With its unique blend of Jungian Psychology and Spirituality and using meditation, art, music and dream work, this workshop will examine the soul patterns transmitted to us in early life and suggest that rather than hampering us, our wounds are actually conduits to healing and soul growth. Using myth and poetry and a workbook to help you begin your healing journey, you will awaken the Divine feminine Within reconnecting with and healing your heart from wounds you feel have held you back. Uncovering your personal birth myth and identifying your patterns in relationships will help you balance your inner masculine and feminine and recover a sense of wholeness and spiritual purpose.
